

LIJI SHAMILIN V S, B.A.,B.L., LL.M.,

Assistant Professor

LIJI SHAMILIN V S has completed her graduation (BA.LLB) from ILS Law College, Pune and her Master graduation (LLM, Labor laws and Administrative law) from School of Excellence in law, Chennai. She has published with the Labor and employment law journal of National Law University, Bhopal (“Conditional Social Cohesion for non-confirming”) and the Indian Constitutional Law Review Quarterly (“An emulation of constitutions”). She has presented her research in several national and international seminars conducted by institutes like NUALS, Central University of Kerala etc. She has also acted as the Team Leader for Pune Chapter of pan-India, legal education inclusion project IDIA (Increasing Diversity by Increasing Access) from 2017-2019. She has carried out extensive research on the Occupational Safety impact of the fourth industrial revolution technology in Indian Mines for her master graduate dissertation. Her other areas of interests include gendered-labor rights, disability rights, intellectual property law and environmental laws.