

MR.J. AROON - ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

He has an extensive academic background, having completed three undergraduate programs, three postgraduate degrees, and two diploma courses, showcasing his dedication to continuous learning and academic growth. In addition, he has earned a PhD, and he is currently pursuing a second PhD in law, further advancing his expertise in the field.

Professionally, he has gained five years of industrial experience as an advocate, where he provided legal counsel, represented clients, and honed his practical skills in various areas of law. This hands-on experience has allowed him to develop a deep understanding of the legal profession.

Moreover, he has also contributed to academia with eight months of teaching experience as an Assistant Professor. This role has allowed him to share his vast knowledge with students, foster academic discussions, and guide them through the complexities of law, reinforcing his commitment to both practical and academic excellence.